High Privilege, Big Profits.

It is along this particular line the District-Attorney and his aldes have been working quietly during the past fortnight. Information has reached the District-Attorney of just how much benefit these directors have realized from the "racing" department of their big corporation. He knows that the Western Union Telegraph Company pays each track $1.690 each racing day for the news what store the news what profit do they make from their speculation?

If the Western Union Company can afford to pay this enormous price for the news what profit do they make from their speculation?

Have Ironclad Agreements

These men have ironclad agreements with the Western Union Telegraph Company and by arrangement dispense the flows either by leased telegraph or telegraph wires to the pool-rooms. According to the information now in the possessin of the District-Attorney's office there are very few pool-rooms in town, less than a dozen, that have wires leading direct from the Western Union building.

A half-dozen pool-room-keepers have instruments in their places, but the wires are supplied by one or two men, but in each case the Western Union furnishes the operator, the company setting $7 a day for each operator furnished.

Navy. He saw his first service on the ironclad Ticonderoga as an acting ensign.

In 1868 he was commissioned by the New York Herald to go with the British army to Abyssinia as correspondent. A year later found him in Spain in the service of the same newspaper.

It was at this time that Sanley was destined to get the commission that was to prove the turning point in his career. He received a message one day requesting him to go to Paris forthwith and meet James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the Herald. Stanley obeyed the summons and a day later was in Paris.

In 1888 Stanley set out on the expedition to the Soudan for the relief of the Soudan for the relief of Edward Schmitzler, better known as Emin Pasha. The latter had been appointed a surgeon in the Turkish army in 1808, and on being sent later to Egypt in the interests of the British Government he was surgeon-general under "Chinese" Gordon. He was elevated to the post of governor-general in 1878, and took the title of Bey over the equatorial provinces of Africa. At the close of the Soudanese war Emin Pasha was left to shift for himself in the wilderness of the Upper Nile and was soon cut off from communication with the civilized world through the hostility of King Wanda. Dr. Junker, a noted Russian explorer, found him by

Attend New York's foremost exposition of parlor furniture. Artistic $115, 5-piece parlor suites at $79.00

THE reason we make the importance of this sale so emphatic is that we know positively your critical taste for artistic parlor furniture would not let you miss this unusual opportunity to at least inspect? these exclusive new designs in bona fide $115 five-piece parlor suites at the exceptionally low price of $79-exactly $36 less than you would be asked to pay elsewhere for hackneyed designs. We insist that you will want to attend this great exposition to-morrow if for no other object than to post yourself on the advance styles and designs, and we take advantage of your interest to offer you a $115

one of these magnificent suites. These distinctive suites are positively the first representation of the ideas of America's foremost designers for the next season, They were made especially for Simpson Crawford Co. by the country's leading manufacturer, who, after showing us his ad-

these elegant suites as we should desire at the actual cost to manufacture in order to keep his costly force of highly skilled workmen from disintegrating during the usual quiet period. Do you think for one instant that we could let such an opportunity pass

Not when you consider how artistic and comfortable these suites are with their massive frames, costly upholsteries and graceful sloping arms. They are indestructibly built—made for service as well as beauty. Most are in mahogany, hand-rubbed and highly polished. A rare touch of elegance is added by the new Aubusson tapestries. They are fit for the palace of a king. We guarantee that no $125 suites were ever shown in New York that excelled these in even the minutest detail—yet the price is but $79. And best of all, they are correct according to the approved ideas that are held secret for the ensuing season. Their equal is not found to-day in America.

Great sale of new style bamboo furniture in New York's newest, brightest, best Japanese department. ONE dollar for $1.75 chairs is a fair example of Simpson Crawford Co.'s prices on handsome bamboo furniture. Maybe you haven't thought of it, but we'll tell you right now that bamboo furniture is going to be all the rage this season, both in city and country homes, and we're outdoing other stores in the showing of new designs.

To-morrow we begin this great exposition and sale of bamboo furniture at lowest prices. t's furniture that lends typical Oriental effect to the country house, and it is so inexpensive that for a small outlay you can secure all you desire. We haven't a solitary piece of bamboo furniture that was carried over from last year. Better look out, though; there's lots of it on the market. Best to come here, for we sell the newest styles as low and lower than the old kinds are sold elsewhere. You'll find proof of that assertion in these prices.
